SECRET AFFINITIES.

A PANTHEISTIC FANTASY. FROM THE FRENCH OF THEOPHILE GAUTIER

[In the last Cornhill Francis Doyle renders from [illegible] Secret Affinities, a Pantheistic Fantasy, which we trust the [illegible] will admire as much as we do.]

Deep in the [illegible], two statues white,
On an old temple front, against blue gleams
Of an Athenian sky instinct with light,
Blended their marble beams

In the same shell embedded (crystal tears
Of the sad sea mourning her Venus flown),
Two pearls of loneliest ocean through long years
Kept whispering words unknown

In the [illegible] by Granada's river
Close to the low voiced fountain's silver showers,
Two roses from Boabdil's garden [illegible]
Mingled their murmuring flowers.

Upon the domes of Venice in a nest
Where love from age to age has had his day,
Two white doves with their feet of pink found rest
Through the soft month of May

Dove, rose pearl marble into ruin dim
Alike dissolve themselves alike decay
Pearls melt, flower wither marble shapes disdain,
And bright birds float away

[illegible] once free flies back to feed
The unfathomable life of yet yearning dumb
Whence God [illegible] all [illegible]
Each form that is to come

By slow, slow changes, to white and tender flesh
[illegible]
The rose, in lips as sweet and red and fresh
Refigured blooms again.

[illegible] once more murmur and coo beneath
[illegible] of two young lovers when they meet
[illegible] renew themselves and flash as teeth
[illegible] divinely sweet.

Hence sympathetic emanations flow
[illegible]
[illegible]
Their sisterhood of soul

Obedient to the hint some fragrance sends
Some color or some ray with mystic power
Atom to atom [illegible]
As the bee [illegible] her power

Of moonlit [illegible] the temple shed
[illegible] lives linked [illegible] memory wakes,
Of flower talk [illegible] through the petals red
Where the bright fountain [illegible]

[illegible]
On golden domes [illegible] back to faith
[illegible]
The old love aims again

Forgotten [illegible] shine for [illegible] the past
Is for them [illegible]
The breathing flower in crimson lips [illegible]
[illegible] sealed

Where the [illegible] a glittering [illegible]
The pearl reclaims her lustre softly bright
[illegible]
As [illegible] and pure and white

[illegible] love [illegible] dove
Has found an echo of her tender moan
Resistance grows [illegible] and love
Springs up from the unknown

[illegible] what rose-tree [illegible]
Fawn, mingling [illegible] joined of yore
As pearl or bird or flower?

1775. LEXINGTON. 1875.

PROPOSED CELEBRATION OF THE CENTENNIAL OF THE BATTLE.

The [illegible] of the town of Lexington, Mass., have determined to celebrate with ceremonies befitting the occasion the one hundredth anniversary of the "Battle of [illegible]" [illegible] Charles Hudson, M B Merriam, and W H [illegible] who have been [illegible] ted a "Committee on Invitations," have issued a circular, in which they make the following [illegible] which made us [illegible] worthy of the very highest consideration, and no [illegible] the [illegible] first blood was shed [illegible] resistance in arms was offered to British aggression. It is pro[illegible] for the celebration of the [illegible] of that broad historic [illegible] pertain to the event. The [illegible] of the country generally are invited to join in the observance. The [illegible] of the day [illegible] unveiling [illegible] and [illegible] refuge [illegible] Lexington, [illegible] that day [illegible] It is expected [illegible] will be [illegible] by the [illegible] of the Executive of the United States, representatives of the different departments of the National and State Governments [illegible] organizations and distinguished individuals of the Re[illegible] words of eloquence and wisdom will add interest to the occasion

[illegible] "[illegible] o' them fellers," remarked Elijah, as he [illegible] out [illegible]

"So you [illegible] anything to do, eh?" asked the Court.

"Nothing," mournfully answered the [illegible] no home [illegible] your cash so short that you couldn't get into a woman's rights convention [illegible]

"You've struck it, pardner," [illegible] the prisoner with a [illegible]

"Yes, and now I'll strike you, Mr Ludington." "I'm down on loafers and vags, and I'm going to [illegible] sixty if [illegible] tears the desk down. You'll have something to do up there besides sitting on a box [illegible] 'Come, Love, Come.' And when the day fades into night, and the remainder of the world retires to rest, you'll have a bed and something [illegible] to hoe that dirt off of you, cut your hair, dig out your nails, and when you come out, you will be so disguised that your own mother will [illegible] duke out [illegible] stock."

The prisoner said he was willing to go [illegible] of the [illegible] as well as [illegible] he might come back for a longer sentence.—Detroit Free Press.

THE [illegible] POLAR EXPEDITION.—This expedition, which will consist of two steam [illegible] and about 120 men and officers, will [illegible] this country next summer [illegible] proceed through Davis Straits, up Baffin's Bay to the Danish settlements [illegible] These will [illegible] its base. Then, still heading northward the [illegible] will enter Smith's Sound and one [illegible] will be left as [illegible] ate depot in 81 degrees north latitude in a fixed position, while the second will press on into the open sea, which it is believed exists about the Pole. The depot-ship will be about 548 miles from the Pole, and the [illegible] will not be [illegible] with sledges. The expedition will have orders in any case to [illegible] in the autumn of 1877, and a [illegible] will probably be sent to the depot ship in the summer of 1876 to bring back [illegible] of the condition of the expedition and [illegible] of such information as may be [illegible]. The report that Commander Markham has been selected to command the expedition is premature. The Admiralty are divided between the appointment of a young, comparatively inexperienced officer, and a senior officer of experience, but with weight of years. The cost of the expedition is estimated at $30,000 a year.—London paper

FIVE ACES.—Jack and Jim Reynolds, cousins and loafers, were playing poker in a bar room near Augusta, Me. Jack held a straight, with an ace at the head, and, to his intense delight, Jim put down the money as fast as he raised until the pool amounted to over $10. Then Jim called and Jack threw down his straight. Then Jim threw down four aces. This indicated the miracle of five aces in one pack or a fraud, and Jack explained [illegible] that there was "shenanigan going on." He [illegible] that one of them was a tray with the end spots chalked out. A fight ensued for the stakes in which Jim was stabbed and Jack had his nose bitten but neither got the money because somebody stole it while they were fighting.

Average California wheat ex warehouse is quoted by latest telegrams from Liverpool at 46s 6d per quarter. Oregon ditto 46s 8d. Oregon cargoes for [illegible] shipment are quotable in Liverpool at 48s per quarter, ditto in Cork 48s. The European markets are all reported dull and cargoes for shipment find slow sale.

There has seldom been a week or month in the history of Portland during the last decade which presented less subject matter for comment in the way of commercial affairs than has the past week and the month now closing. To-day we find no change in the aspect of affairs; business at the same standstill as before, quietly awaiting the opening of navigation to the sea.

Monetary matters are reported to show a little more scarcity than was anticipated, but as collection day usually brings out the complaints on this [illegible] city for the purpose of legitimate trade exists, [illegible] it is possible that the resumption of business is all that is necessary to remove the [illegible] deficiency in the circulating capital of the community. During the cold weather many mills, manufacturing establishments and other enterprises have shut down or suspended, and disbursements have [illegible] very limited [illegible] an apparent scarcity, when the difficulty is not so much a lack of money as the inactivity of the forces which give it circulation. The return of business to its accustomed channels will quickly remedy this evil. Such a re[illegible]

In the line of trade [illegible] a fair amount of activity in the filling of orders from points up the valley with which direction only we have transportation facilities at present. These orders are not large but numerous enough to make quite a reduction in the stocks of some of our dealers while prevented from filling up by the ice in the Columbia. Prices manifest but little disposition to fluctuate.

Produce is coming forward by steamers quite rapidly and our warehouses are filling up with grain and flour there being now in this city the estimated amount of 7000 tons of wheat and flour awaiting shipment.

Advices from abroad note but little change in [illegible] though the tendency of the San Francisco market seems to be downward. Ours is unchanged.

It is possible that the steamer Oriflamme will leave San Francisco for Portland on Tuesday next.

HAY'S [illegible] HAIR [illegible]

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff, and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

Dr A A Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purpose."

Buckingham's Dye,
FOR THE WHISKERS.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black at discretion. It is easily applied, being in one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

GOVERNMENT AID TO RAILWAYS.

The proceedings of the National Grange of the Patrons of Husbandry now sitting at Charleston, South Carolina, abundantly justify the position we have taken heretofore, namely, that the agricultural class in the United States are not opposed to the principle of Government aid to the building of railways, but to the abuses which have been practised under the subsidy laws heretofore enacted. The hue-and-cry against all subsidies, with which the air has been full for two years, came not originally from the people who are most interested in the question, the producers of the country, but from politicians and demagogues who thought they saw in it a means of elevating themselves or promoting partisan objects. Members of the National Grange, composed of the leading farmers from all parts of the Union, fresh from the subordinate granges, and thoroughly conversant with the sentiments entertained by the masses of their constituents, speak in favor of Government aid to the Texas Pacific road, and a resolution to that effect is reported. But they couple this with a condition that such aid be accompanied with proper and sufficient safeguards to protect the people against the extortion and tyrannical discrimination that have characterized the operations of the lines heretofore built under similar auspices.

This is putting the subject in its proper light. Those nations that have controlled the carrying trade on the high seas have done so by liberally fostering their own lines of vessels. So, great lines of railway, except through old and densely populated regions, have generally had liberal assistance from the government. Without this, comparatively little could be done for many years to come, toward the development of vast sections of our country, since railway transportation has become a condition precedent to rapid development.

As the sentiment of the people on this subject becomes more clearly defined and better understood, there will, we feel confident, be a reaction among the politicians, and a return to sound policy on the main question of Government assistance in the development of the country. There is little danger of a return to the loose and ill-guarded practices of the past, but there is great reason to hope there will again be found the popular force necessary to secure the help of the Government in building railways, not for the monopolies, but for the people.

WHO SUPPORTS THE RING ORGAN?

The ring organ takes occasion to declare that Mr. Holladay has no interest in that paper, and contributes nothing to its support. It used to say that every week or two, and soon after it would leak out that such was not the case. So many times has that statement been made by the organ, and so many times admitted by it to have been untruthfully made, that its assertion on the subject at this time can possible, however, that Mr. Holladay may have withdrawn his direct support from the thing, although, as is well known, he still owns the material and press. We say it is possible he may have withdrawn his direct support from the concern; for he has shown himself a pretty shrewd business man, and certainly no shrewd man would wish to be identified with that sheet under its present management.

And the ring paper also avers that it gets no assistance from the railway other than such advertising as the OREGONIAN receives also. Then the public are to understand, are they, that those double prices formerly paid the Bulletin by the railway company and charged to expense account, are discontinued? and that the 200 copies of the Bulletin formerly paid for (and not taken) by the railway company, are no longer taken? We were aware that some abuses had been cut off since the road passed into the hands of the creditors, and supposed in time others would be discontinued; but it is hardly likely the separation between Mr. Holladay and the road has been made so complete already as to cut off all its contracts of assistance to his organ. It is not pretended that the organ pays its expenses, and we can hardly believe the "half a dozen poor men"—but honest and respectable—for whom the Bulletin last week put up a pitiful mouth, are carrying the load. If they are, and are as badly off as the Bulletin would indicate, there is a nice opening for subscribers to put their money into, who don't care to draw it out again, either in coin or newspapers.

CONGRESSIONAL FILIBUSTERING.

Every impartial and thoughtful observer of the proceedings of the national House of Representatives has experienced feelings of mingled disgust and humiliation, as he has witnessed the course adopted by the minority to prevent action on several important measures. The majority have the right, legal and moral, to rule in this country, in our representative assemblies as well as in the popular elections; and it makes no difference under what pretense the minority attempt to prevent or obstruct the regular and legitimate exercise of that right, their conduct is indefensible upon any principle. The Washington Chronicle, of February 2d, speaks in exactly the right way of this matter. It says:

> If it is right now for the Democratic minority to attempt to control the majority by dilatory motions, which completely block the course of legislation, it will be right for the Republican minority of the next House to do the same, the Democrats themselves being judge.
> The truth is, the course of the minority in this case is unprecedented by any party. Filibustering has never been and can never be justified, except for the legitimate purpose of securing a fair hearing. The minority have a right to be heard on committees and on the floor. Whenever the majority attempt to tyrannize over them they may, and ought, in self-defense, resort to every parliamentary expedient to compel a recognition of their equality in proportion to numbers. But it is quite a different thing to adopt this means for the purpose of subjugating the majority to the will of the minority. This constitutes a palpable resort to the law of force to control members, which violates the principles of popular government. It is impossible for the majority to submit to this sort of dictation without a loss of self respect.

MEXICAN VETERANS.

In response to an inquiry by the invalid pension committee of the House of Representatives, the surgeon-general of the United States has transmitted the following statement of the number of regular and volunteer troops who served in the Mexican war:

Aggregate regular and volunteer force mustered into service	100,454
Discharged by expiration of service	52,146
Leaving a balance of	48,303
The report shows further that there were discharged for disability	9,740
Discharged by order and civil authority	2,503
Aggregate number of discharges	13,825
Killed in battle	1,013
Died of wounds	505
Total killed and died of wounds	1,548
Ordinary deaths	10,986
Accidental deaths	361
Aggregate number deaths, officers and men	12,896
Wounded in battle	3,293
Total wounded	3,395
Resignations	456
Desertions	6,725

It is estimated by some that 10,000 of these are still living, while others think that estimate too large by at least one-half. It will thus be seen that should the bill pass granting pensions to these veterans, the pension roll thereby created would be by no means a large one.

Senators Kelly and Hipple were present when the Senate refused to substitute the Salt Lake railway bill reported by the committee for the original bill, and they telegraphed that fact to the Bulletin. Afterwards, when the motion to read the bill a third time came up, there were no votes for it except those of Cameron of Pennsylvania and Flanagan of Texas, which was telegraphed to the OREGONIAN. We inferred our Senators were absent at the last vote, as we could not suppose they would vote against the third reading of the bill. We infer so still; but the Bulletin, unable to perceive the difference between the motion to substitute and the motion to read a third time, makes a howl about our "lying dispatch," and declares its telegram above referred to proves that the Oregon Senators were present. That is stupid enough for Scott; but as he is on a little trip to San Francisco, we suppose the apostate Andy Johnsonite, who is now ostensible editor of the Bulletin, must have committed the ridiculous blunder. If a man can do that and be happy, it is demonstrable that ignorance is bliss.

A late Washington dispatch says:

> Senator Mitchell yesterday met Crawford, correspondent of the Chicago Times, on the floor of the House, and accused him of being the author of an article in the Times more than a year ago containing statements concerning the life of Mitchell, referring to his former career under the name of Hipple. Quite a scene followed. It is reported that Mitchell told Crawford that he would hear from him again.

One would think our much-wived Senator had been heard from nearly enough already. We can assure Crawford, from personal knowledge, that he is likely to "hear from" the Senator a great many times in the course of his life. There is not the slightest danger of its assuming a more serious phase. We have had occasion to know that he is one of those creatures of whom an old proverb truly says they "never bite."

On November 20th a new Democratic organ, called the Evening Mail, was ushered into existence at Washington City. It had the entree of all good Bourbon society, being indorsed by all the great lights of the party about the national capital, from Senator Thurman down. Only less than the greetings that met the advent of the Republic, new Republican organ started at New York, were those with which this Democratic organ was hailed. But, like the Republic, it was destined to a career more brief than brilliant. It has just given grown up throughout the country against all journals that have no higher mission than that of being partisan advocates.

A subscriber writes to inquire whether it is the custom of newspapers to insert only those communications the sentiments of which the editor indorses. That is not the custom. Every newspaper of any standing admits communications expressing sentiments to which the editor does not assent. Sometimes dissent is expressed editorially at the time, but more frequently, perhaps, the communication is published without comment. Of course, the office always reserves the right to say what subjects shall be discussed through the paper, and to what extent, as otherwise interminable discussion on subjects of minor importance might fill the paper to the exclusion of matter of general interest.

The New York Sun having indulged in some remarks not altogether complimentary to the Senators and Representatives from California, the Chronicle replies:

> As for our members of Congress and Senators, we do not send our best men out of the country. We would not exile a man of intellect and a good citizen to Washington. Our best people stay at home, where they can read the Chronicle, enjoy the climate, have good things to eat, preserve a good conscience and possess a good digestion—where the sun of righteousness, and not the New York Sun, sheds its radiance over them.

A Washington dispatch of the 10th instant says the claim of the estate of Oakes Ames as assignee of Treadwell & Co. of San Francisco, has been decided in favor of the claimants by the American branch of the American and Mexican claims commission, and an award made of $250,000 in currency. The claim, not being admitted by the commissioners on behalf of Mexico, will go to the umpire, Sir Edward Thornton.

The ring organ is still "knawing a phile" about the dispatches; and yet it reiterates the assertion every day that its subscription list is increasing with unprecedented rapidity. Please, good neighbor, if your property is so vastly increased, while your expenses are so greatly diminished by the telegraphic situation, what are you making so much ado about?

A man in Cincinnati, on the 2d of the present month, made a bet of $5 that he could drink half a pint of raw whisky at a single draught. The testimony of the medical witness before the coroner's jury was to the effect that it was a case of acute alcoholic poisoning.

A memorial is in circulation, signed by one person of each State and Territory, praying Congress to enact a law making the 12th day of February—the anniversary of Lincoln's birthday—a legal holiday. We have received a copy by mail.

A London dispatch of February 8th says a committee of Austrian nobles, who have hitherto contributed liberally to the Carlist cause, have advised Don Carlos to conclude peace with Alfonso.

The new mill of the Consolidated Virginia and California mines, in Nevada, is crushing 230 tons per day of high grade ore. It is expected the clean-up for February will be $1,500,000.

The Pacific, a religious paper published at San Francisco, informs its readers that Astoria has long been known as one of the wickedest towns on the Pacific coast.

Offers have poured in for the recently ordered French loan till they equal forty-two times the amount of the loan.

CITY.

RICH ORE.—Mr. Chas Hodge has laid on our table a small specimen of silver ore, which he has recently received from Newbury, Essex county, Massachusetts, where very extensive deposits of the ore have recently been discovered. The following account of these discoveries we obtain from the Scientific American, of the 6th inst.: "The discovery dates back only to 1865, when a Byfield man, named Rogers, said to be a rather dissolute character, in his wanderings over Highfield Pasture first noticed the ore. Something in the weight of the stones which he picked up and occasional gleams as the sun glanced on small, smooth surfaces, induced the belief that there was metal in their composition; and if metal, then something of value. With this idea he collected a number of the best specimens, and some time after, took them to Mr. Albert Adams, a quiet bachelor farmer residing in Newbury. Mr. Adams became greatly interested in the matter, believing that a great discovery had been made. He began to study mineralogy and geology. Becoming convinced that metal was present in quantity, he was soon confident that it was silver and lead. He pursued his investigations very quietly; and finally concluded to secure by purchase the land on which the specimens were found. For this purpose advances were made to an old farmer named Jaquish, who had long owned the pasture, and the lot, measuring twelve acres, was transferred to him for $350 early in April of last year. He then began digging. The surface finds, of float ore, were naturally more or less oxydized by the action of the elements, but at a depth of six feet he struck the true vein. Several tons were then taken to his barn and further examination made. Four specimens were assayed. The first, coarse grained galena, assayed for silver, yielded $56 57; and the second, fine grained galena, $75 23 per ton. The third, a comparatively pure piece of gray copper, containing also some quartz and galena, yielded, of silver, $1,270 per ton; gold, $129 per ton; and about 27 per cent. of copper. The fourth specimen, weighing about three pounds, tried for lead, was found to be nearly pure and hammered quite readily. The lead was 52 per cent. of the whole matter." Some of the ore forwarded to Mr. Hodge has been thoroughly tested in this city, with the most flattering results.

VESSEL LOST.—We are authentically informed that the British bark Nabob, which sailed from this port on the 7th of last March, of 530 tons register, bound for Cork, having on board 12,516 bushels of wheat and 4,998 barrels of flour—total cargo valued at $41,268—has never been heard from since crossing the Columbia river bar. On the 11th of the present month the Nabob has been absent eleven months, and as no tidings have been heard of the vessel, there can scarcely remain a doubt but what she has gone down with every soul on board. The Salem Flouring Mills Company were the charterers of the Nabob. The following were the officers and crew of the missing vessel: Robert Featherston, captain; John Richardson, chief mate; Robert Bacon, second mate; A. B. Loud, cook and steward; Charles Brown, carpenter; James Wilson, Henry Poole, Wm. Featherston, Louis DuBois, Albert Thomas, Edward Davis, seamen. Two lads named W. R. Wilson and W. F. Williams, who reside in East Portland, ran off to Astoria and were about to ship for England as cabin boys on the Nabob. However, the parents of these wayward youths followed them to Astoria and compelled them to return home. Another lad named Wm. Deubler also shipped, but deserted prior to the sailing of the vessel. These lads and their parents and friends have reason to congratulate themselves from escaping a watery grave.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—Two small boys, whose names we are unable to learn, while out gunning on Sunday, had a narrow escape from serious if not fatal injuries from the accidental discharge of a shot gun. By some means, which even the boys are unable to explain, the gun, which was in the hands of one of the youthful nimrods, was accidentally discharged. Strange to say, the contents of the weapon struck the legs of both boys. Fortunately, the shot were small, and the boys having on hunting boots escaped serious injury. Not a single shot penetrated the leather of which the boot-legs were made; however, the force of the charge bruised the ankles of the boys, rendering one lad quite lame. Yesterday these juvenile hunters were brought into the office of Dr. Watkins, who, after examining the limbs, pronounced the injuries very slight. Hunting on Sunday is not altogether a proper way to spend that day, more especially ought the practice to be condemned among boys of tender years.

A KICKING HORSE.—While one of the street cars was coming down the track yesterday, and had reached the intersection of Washington street, the horse attached to the vehicle became restive. On being urged to move forward by the driver, the animal whirled suddenly around and began to make a vigorous use of its heels. About the third kick the horse got its hind legs over the traces, which tended greatly to complicate affairs. Holding a taut line, and never for an instant losing his presence of mind, the driver got out, and by careful and cool management quieted the intractable animal, and in a few minutes righted things and proceeded on as if nothing had occurred. Those who witnessed the management of the driver, speak in the highest complimentary terms of the nerve and dexterity displayed. Had it not been for skillful maneuvering, the damage would have been great. No one was hurt, and even the car was not thrown off the track.

PILOT COMMISSIONERS.—A few days ago a meeting was held at Astoria by the Board of Pilot Commissioners, composed of Messrs. Wm. Wadhams, A. Vandusen, and — Warren. There were but two applications for commissions as bar pilots—Errick Johnson and Eli Hilton. To these applicants commissions were granted, to expire on the 1st of November, 1876. The following persons made applications for commissions to act as river pilots: Phil. Johnson, P. E. Ferchen, H. A. Snow, G. Reed, M. Gilman, Irving Stevens, Hiram Brown and Richard Hoyt. The commissions granted these pilots will not expire until Nov. 1, 1876. No other business of importance was transacted by the board.

CIRCUS MANAGER ARRESTED.—John Wilson, the well known veteran circus manager on the Pacific coast, who is decidedly "on the muscle," was arrested in San Francisco a few days ago. He had a difficulty with a street corner vendor who persisted in locating his stand in front of the circus, on the sidewalk, and compelled the ladies and children to pass into the street to enter the building. The vendor was knocked into the street the first round and procured a warrant for Mr. Wilson's arrest. He was not present in court yesterday to prosecute, however, and the charge was dismissed on payment of $5 fine.

OVERBOARD.—The San Francisco Call of the 11th says: Yesterday afternoon as the barkentine Portland, Capt. John Gaze, was hauling out from her berth at Mission street wharf, Wm. Rummell, the freight clerk, attempted to cross from the vessel to the wharf. The fastening of the plank had been cast off, and the end tipped down, dumping Rummell into the bay, the gang-plank following and striking him on the shoulder and inflicting a severe bruise. Rummell was, however, equal to the situation, and was safely landed on the wharf.

LARGE SHIPMENT.—Perhaps the largest invoice of goods shipped by any two merchants of Portland at one time, arrived on the Ajax yesterday. There arrived for the firm of L. White & Co., alone, 110 tons, and for L. Goldsmith & Co., 85 tons, making a total of 195 tons to these two firms.

COUNTY COURT.—No business of importance was transacted by this body on Saturday. The report of J. M. Stott, supervisor of road district No. 4 was submitted, and, after examination, approved. A few claims against the county were audited, and the court adjourned for the term.

LARGE BELL.—A large bell arrived on the Ajax yesterday morning from Meneely & Sons, Troy, New York. The bell is intended for the Catholic church at Gervais, Marion county, and will be forwarded in a few days to its destination. The bell, besides the rotary yoke, weighs 1,014 pounds. It is cast from an excellent quality of bell metal, and has a beautiful tone.

WELCOME.—Mr. Waller, on Oak street, has been sending the attaches of the press room of this office an early lunch, consisting of coffee, sandwiches, etc., and the boys say it was just the thing to brace up on. They hold the old gentleman in kindly remembrance.

HEBREW LADIES' FAIR.

Philharmonic Hall presented a busy scene last night. From 7½ till 12 o'clock there was such a throng of people as to make locomotion rather difficult. Of course, the various booths put on their best appearance, as did also the ladies who attended them. While prices for goods were not exorbitant, yet a very large sum of money must have been gathered in by the hundred and one industrious workers, as we for one can vouch for. It was hard indeed to resist the pleasing and coaxing invitations of the ladies to purchase, and we of course yielded to the extent of a reporter's purse.

It is difficult to say which was the most interesting feature. Each stand and each corner of the room had its attractions, and all were liberally patronized. Articles for sale or raffle were prominently displayed, and in some instances as many as one hundred chances on articles were filled. In quite a number of articles all the chances were taken. The various booths were presided over as follows:

No. 1—Mrs. L. H. Lewis, Ida Bories, Mrs. R. Jacobs, Flora Abrams.

No. 2—Mrs. P. Wasserman, Bertha Mayer, Mrs. N. A. Hirstel, Caroline Oppenheimer.

No. 3—Mrs. S. Redlich, Lizzie Friedman, Mrs. J. Oppenheimer, Ida Baum.

No. 4—Mrs. J. Fleischner, Jennie Fox, Mrs. A. Heek, Amelia Schlossar.

No. 5—Mrs. Sinsheimer, Miss Zwang, Mrs. Friedlander, Miss Haas.

No. 6—Mrs. Kraemer, Miss Baum, Mrs. Hexter, Laura May.

Flower Stand—Clementina Mayer, Flora Brooks, Rose Jacobs.

Rebecca at the Well—Miss Janette Davis, Miss Matilda Jacobi.

Cigar Stand—Harriet Oppenheimer, Jennie Rosenheim.

Roulette—Jennie Bachman, Miss Ackerman.

Post Office—Flora Bloch, Lena Ach, Bertha Levy, Mr. Sam Beck.

Fish Pond—Miss Wertheimr, Miss Brenner.

Grab-bag, candy, valentine and toy stands—by several young misses.

Raffles—by numerous young ladies.

Old woman in the shoe—by a dozen or more little girls in turns.

Lunch table—by some ten ladies, with a large support.

Towards the close some thirty couples went whirling around the room in the mazy dance to enlivening music, which was present during the entire evening.

The proceeds from the various tables summed up a trifle over $852, and, adding the door receipts, the amount would, of course, show much larger, but that must be omitted till the close of the fair in the general receipts.

Raffles will take place as each book is filled up, which, in many instances, is readily done.

The executive committee are Mesdames B. Goldsmith, M. Seller, Fannie Barman, D. Simon, J. Lowenberg, C. Fishel, L. Goodman, A. Schlussel.

We have seldom seen a more energetic people than all engaged in the work of making the fair a success, and it will be, judging from the aspect of affairs last evening. The lunch table will be set from 11 to 2 o'clock to-day, and the fair will continue to-night and the two evenings following.

PETITIONS.

A petition was read from A. L. Kirk, asking for the privilege of using a portion of G street, between Fifth and Sixth, to move a building. The petition was granted.

The following communication was received and, on motion, filed:

To the Honorable Board of Trustees, East Portland.

GENTLEMEN: Referring to the proposed extension of Third street in McMillen's Addition, I would state that I am now erecting a foundry and machine shop at an expense of some $20,000, and that the present road along the river bank is quite unfit for use. Within the past week I have been compelled to expend nearly $100 in moving one piece of machinery over it, as it took three days and not less than ten teams to drag it through the mud.

If the new street is opened, I am prepared at once to connect it with the foundry by building a substantial bridge across the slough at an expense of not less than $1,200.

As this foundry will employ from 50 to 60 mechanics, when in full operation, it is reasonable to suppose that a number of small dwelling houses and stores will spring up in its neighborhood, as was the case around Weidler's sawmill, in Watson's Addition, and this will serve to increase the taxable property in East Portland. As far as Mrs. Irving's property is concerned, I consider I am adding largely to its value without any outlay to herself. I understand that the viewers lately appointed to assess damages or benefits, have brought in a verdict of $1,000 damages. I do not know to whom these damages are to be assessed, but I earnestly trust that this may not be the cause of stopping or delaying the opening of the street.

I contemplate extending my wharf this spring to deep water, so as to let foreign ships to discharge their ballast and to place this gravel along Third street without any expense to the property owners, and thus have a good Macadamized road all through the year. Of course I can do nothing if my enterprise is to be opposed from the first.

Respectfully submitted,
EDWIN RUSSELL.

REPORTS.

A report was read from the viewers in relation to the matter of the extension of Third street. The viewers stated that they had examined the proposed extension of the street, and assessed the damage at the sum of $1,000. The president of the board stated that as but two of the viewers had signed the report (three being required by the charter,) the whole report would have to be regarded as a nullity. It was so regarded and laid on the table.

The city treasurer submitted the following report, which was received, placed on file and the roll returned to the treasurer:

The assessment roll is herewith submitted, showing the following report: Taxes collected under ordinance No. 159, $1,903 77; total amount delinquent February 15th, 1875, $2,817 83; total amount of tax levied, including supplementary assessment by treasurer, $4,725 10.

The quarterly report of J. A. Newell was read and referred to the committee on accounts and current expenses.

CLAIMS.

The following claim against the city was allowed: Kelley & Robinson, $11 50. A claim of $3 in favor of the same parties was referred to the committee on ways and means.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Hoyt offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That J. B. Shute, T. J. Robinson and Neil Austin, be appointed viewers to view the proposed extension of Third street in McMillen's Addition from the northern boundary of the city limits, and they are required to meet at the council chamber in the city on Saturday, Feb. 20th, 1875, at 10 o'clock, and qualify for the discharge of their duties as said viewers, and the resolution heretofore adopted, appointing A. C. Cunningham, W. F. Allen and T. J. Carl, viewers for the proposed extension of said street, be rescinded.

On motion of Mr. Hoyt, the report of the other viewers in relation to the same matter, which was laid on the table, was referred to the viewers mentioned above.

Mr. Buckman offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the city surveyor be and is hereby directed to survey to the proposed extension of Twenty-third street, and of Multnomah street, in Sullivan's Addition, and from the north terminus of said Twenty-third street to a point 580 feet north and to the north line of Multnomah street continued; thence east on the line of Multnomah street as aforesaid to the eastern boundary of the city, and to mark the boundaries thereof, and to make his report to this board at the next regular meeting, containing a plat of such proposed extension of such streets, and a portion of each lot or part thereof required for such extension of said street.

On motion the board adjourned.

POLICE COURT NOTES.

The case of Bridget Gallagher came up in police court yesterday morning. After hearing the testimony and argument, the court took the matter under advisement until this morning.

THE WOMAN SUFFRAGE QUESTION.

PORTLAND, Feb. 15, 1875.

The woman suffrage panacea cures in one minute—all the ills woman's flesh is heir to; at least, one would suppose so to have attended the Woman's Suffrage Convention lately held in Portland. To have heard those women discuss the pros, with no one to introduce the cons, would have convinced almost any unreasoning individual that they were advancing unanswerable arguments in favor of women voting, and if only once women could vote, every obnoxious law would be repealed, every barbarous usage and custom done away with, and woman be made infinitely wiser, happier and better; disagreeable husbands would be brought to the meekness of lambs, washtubs, dirty pots and kettles banished from the land, the present system of house-keeping, in which woman does pretend to exercise a little oversight of kitchen and children, be so metamorphosed that somebody (they did not say who; perhaps their husbands, may be a Chinaman—all the same) would relieve them so that they could reach a higher plane, and totally and finally showing these things all behind them, step forth into the [illegible] the equal of [illegible]. Very fine in theory, but fatal to practice, as I shall undertake to show.

In the first place, it is necessary for some one to take the responsibility of looking after all the minutiæ of a well-ordered system of house-keeping. If the home, which is the fountain of social life in the land, be, through neglect or indifference, a scene of daily discord, of untidy floors, soiled table-cloths, half-cooked food, irregular meals, ill-ventilated bed-rooms, unmade beds, and half-washed dishes, where shall we turn for consolation when the result of all this becomes apparent in dissipated husbands and sons, and discontented daughters. No one is so truly served in this matter of household economy as she who serves herself, or at least stands faithfully at the wheel and carefully guides all, inspires all. No paid servant can ever take the place of wife and mother. Now, doubtless the women who clamor for suffrage will say they never intended woman should desert her post; and still, in the same breath, they will tell you that she is burdened to death with all these cankering cares, and then want to lay on her the burdens already heavy for the husband and father to bear, of political duties, and the entanglements arising therefrom, and the privilege (?) of battling for the almighty dollar in a hand-to-hand contest with the unfeeling world. Woman, instead of insisting on any more liberty of this sort should thank God that man can stand in the front of battle and receive these shocks. Besides, I, for one, in common with all others, approve and applaud any woman who can, when the necessity is upon her, transact business of any sort. No one objects to a woman's running a sawmill, tilling a farm or trafficking in any way, if she feels so disposed; but I envy no woman the privilege of so standing alone. As far as the matter of business for woman is concerned, her room for action is ample; and with relation to the holding of property which is strictly theirs, the law is liberal enough for any reasonable person. There are a few points which might and ought to be changed. But Rome was not built in a day, nor can any system of laws be devised and perfected in one decade. It is not in the heart of man to do us any wrong, but the rather to shield us, as I consider they do. It rather seems that these mistaken women wish the ballot, in order that they may as nearly as possible change the present order of things, and give women a chance to scramble for the crumbs that fall from Uncle Sam's table. The leaders must know that they are not sincere in what they profess to think this right to vote will secure to women, but like all skillful generals, they are maturing their plans for a general rush to office when the time comes. Long may it be deferred.

The majority of the women suffragists are so because their leaders have blinded them; a few because they hope to do away with the whisky traffic. To hear them talk one would suppose that every saloon and house of ill-fame would be closed at once and forever, whereas these evils would be aggravated ten fold. This class of women must vote and are entitled to hold office the same as others, and you may be sure, my virtuous sisters, that their vote would count one and their influence ten to one against us. Every hurdy-gurdy house and music-hall would become a caucus room, and wine would flow like water. A handsome and talented woman without principle is of all beings the most dangerous. Sneer at this, as we may, it is true. Human nature is human nature the world over.

One of the members remarked to a friend, with a deprecating look, that she did not go anything on some of the leaders of this movement in Oregon. There is just that difficulty wherever it is on the tapis, and so it will be always; and virtuous womanhood shrinks back appalled at the idea of contact with such. Now it is certainly a fact that, at present the biggest rogue carries off the biggest load; think you it will be any better when women get to be voters? never; only worse. And then suppose a good, intelligent, capable woman does succeed (which can be only at a great sacrifice) in getting a nomination to office, where, think you, will be the first point her assailants attack? the most tender, namely, her character morally. Now whenever a woman is obliged to defend herself, she labors at a terrible disadvantage, and no woman of delicacy will be willing to stand the fire. This will leave the coast clear for our fallen sisters, and you may be sure they will rise up in bitterness of soul and leave no stone unturned to gain power where respectability is denied them. A bad woman is so infinitely worse than a bad man, that there is no comparison. The reason is, that when a woman has once crossed that immeasurably deep gulf which custom has placed between virtuous and fallen women, there is no return, while for man there is always hope and chance of retrieve.

Women cannot vote themselves rid of obnoxious husbands, poverty, or weak backs. The latter evil might be remedied by carefully studying the laws of health—the last thing they think of these days.

That women need educating to a higher standard of motherhood, I acknowledge with all my heart; but that they can become any better fitted for so delicate a function, on the discordant field of political strife, I firmly disbelieve. Woman is man's equal, and infinitely dear to him, and this masculine business for woman has a tendency to totally destroy that halo of sentiment and romance which envelopes every wife, mother and sweetheart, and throws them open to the cold, inconsiderate opinions of heartless men. Heartless men, did I say? No wonder if they are so when woman so forgets her calling as madly to seek to shove him to the wall in a scramble after pelf and power.

ARCADIA.

The San Francisco Chronicle, speaking of the rumor that Senator West, of Louisiana, is to supersede Secretary Bristow, hints at something in the history of the Louisiana Senator which it would be unpleasant to see divulged: Says the Chronicle:

We sincerely hope that such a change is not contemplated. It would be an appointment most unfit to be made. The President is not supposed to be advised of the antecedents of every public man whom the confusion of those later war times has thrown to the surface, but Mr. Rod. West owes it, not only to the President but to himself that he shall not be advanced to such a position in public affairs as would necessitate an exposition of his earlier history. We have been glad to notice the advancement of Mr. Senator West, and to accord to him all that he has accomplished of usefulness in his career; but the Secretaryship of the Treasury is an office that should only be intrusted to one the history of whose entire life places him above the possibility of yielding to temptation.

In order to fill up his stock, Mr. JOSEPH KOHN, will leave shortly for San Francisco for the purpose of making a personal selection of Spring Goods. Mr. K. has had many years experience and knows exactly the wants of the trade. In this connection it is well to say that the stock of clothing furnishing goods, etc., at present in store is fully as large as can be seen at any establishment of the kind on the Northern coast. He can accommodate you now both as to quality of goods and prices. Call to-day at his place, opposite National Bank.

RESOURCES OF LINN COUNTY.

The Albany Register of last week contains an elaborate description of the resources, business and growth of Linn county, from which we make the following extracts:

Linn county covers an area of 1,766,000 acres, almost every foot of which is rich arable lands which, when cultivated, produces in immense quantities not only the finest wheat in the world, but oats, barley, flax, fruits of all kinds and, in fact, almost all the agricultural productions of industry and wealth. About 200,000 acres of land are in cultivation, producing of wheat alone, last season, a crop variously estimated at from 2,000,000 to [illegible] bushels. From [illegible] bushels of oats per acre at ten acres, weighing from 41 to 42 pounds to the bushel, have been reported [illegible] Linn county, while 45 bushels per [illegible] currence.

The population of the county is now estimated at between 12,000 and 15,000, with an assessable property valuation of about $1,500,000.

Coal deposits have been found in the south-eastern portions of the county, but as yet their true value has not been fully developed.

The Oregon and California railroad runs the entire length of the county, near forty miles, affording, in addition to the Wallamet river on its western boundary, splendid transportation facilities.

The Albany and Santiam canal, connecting the waters of the Santiam at Lebanon, with the waters of the Wallamet at Albany, a distance of about fourteen miles, and passing through the rich and productive soil of Albany prairie, affords facilities for the transportation of lumber from the mountains and the products of the soil along its banks, that have proved largely beneficial during the past season, and will prove more and more advantageous in the coming years.

In portions of the county, hill lands covered with the rich and juicy bunch grass (and there is nothing better for fattening stock), can be purchased for from $1 25 to $5 per acre. The prairie or valley lands are held higher, and very little, if any, can be obtained now at a less figure than say from $15 to $25 per acre, while lands lying along the railroad and near the larger towns cannot be obtained, as a general rule, for less than from $25 to $50 per acre.

Scio is the oldest town in the county and is a flourishing burgh. Two large and commodious buildings have been added to the list of mercantile houses since the dawn of 1874. Besides these, Messrs. [illegible] & Morris have enlarged and fitted up a fine store-room, which they are fast filling up with a really magnificent stock of goods. These new additions have swelled the original number of stores to six, all doing a lively business, selling merchandise during 1874 aggregating nearly $100,000.

Albany has 7 dry goods houses, 2 hardware houses, 4 millinery stores, 4 groceries, 5 saloons, 2 breweries, 1 bookstore, 8 smithies, 4 wagon shops, 2 saddle and harness shops, 2 livery stables, 2 hotels, and a number of private boarding houses, 5 boot and shoe manufactories, 5 tin and stove stores, 4 drug stores, 2 tailors, 2 flouring mills, 1 sawmill, 5 grain warehouses, 2 planing mills, 1 foundry and machine shop, 3 paint shops, 2 jewelry stores, 3 barber shops, 2 printing offices, where three weekly newspapers are printed, 2 gunsmiths, 1 cooper shop, 1 turning lathe and 2 broom factories. Its grain warehouses have a capacity of about 1,000,000 bushels. There are ten resident physicians and ten members of the legal profession in the city. The aggregate business of the city last year, including the transactions of the mills and warehouses, amounted to, if it did not exceed, $1,000,000.

Tangent, located on the line of the O. & C. railroad, is six miles due south from Albany, in the western edge of Albany prairie, some eleven miles from Lebanon, and on the line of the projected railroad from Yaquina bay eastward from Corvallis to Lebanon. Tangent was founded by Mr. John Beard in 1871, who erected a large warehouse in the most improved and substantial manner, with capacity of storing 75,000 bushels of grain, the elevators being run by steam. The business of this house for the past year will reach near $70,000, arising from wheat, $50,000, on flax seed $20,000. The wheat raised in the vicinity of Tangent is of the finest quality, much sought after by our local mills. The grangers have a neat hall, with a membership of eighty male and female. There is a good schoolhouse in the vicinity of the village, in which a good school is kept, with a large attendance of scholars. The lands are very fertile throughout the whole extent to Lebanon on the east, Albany on the north, Calipooia creek on the south and west, forming one plain of about 90,000 acres,—the garden spot of the Wallamet Valley. Consequently the lands are held at stiff prices, ranging from $30 to $40 per acre.

Peoria, four miles east of Shedd, on the east bank of the Wallamet, contains several buildings, for grain warehouses with an aggregate capacity of 60,000 bushels. The country surrounding produces large crops of grain, and it will not be long before more storage room will be demanded at this point.

Boston, on the Calipooia river, nearly two miles southeast of Shedd, has several dwellings, superior water-power, and one of the finest flouring mills in the county. In the immediate vicinity are five sawmills, several churches, school houses, etc.

Waterloo, about seven miles above Lebanon, at the falls of the Santiam, has a splendid water-power, an excellent soda spring, a large flouring and sawmill, with one or more stores, two boarding houses, several dwellings, and is soon to have a postoffice. The land in the vicinity is generally heavily timbered, with here and there a prairie. Land can be obtained at reasonable rates and on the most accommodating terms.

Lebanon, one of the most lively business points in the county, Albany excepted, has a population of 300, is situated on the west bank of the south fork of the Santiam river, and is within three miles of the center of the county. Lebanon is 14 miles southeast from Albany, with which it is connected by the Albany and Santiam canal. The total amount of business done, merchandise sold, etc., in Lebanon annually, will probably aggregate $200,000, to which the Elkins Bros. will add $60,000 for the year's business—a total of $260,000 per year.

During the past year the prairie and other tillable lands surrounding Lebanon for ten miles raised the following amounts of grain and hay, as approximated: Wheat, 40,000 bushels; flax, 1,000 bushels; barley, 2,000 bushels; hay, 4,000 tons. The following number of sheep, cattle, hogs and horses, with wool in pounds, is also approximated: Cattle, 3,000 head; hogs, 600 head; horses, 1,200 head; sheep, 7,000 head; wool, 40,000 pounds. The yield of the forest will amount to: Lumber, 1,000,000 feet; shingles, 1,000,000, rails, 600,000.

Brownsville contains about 700 inhabitants, five fair church buildings, two good school houses, costing about $2,000 each, the town (North and South Brownsville) being in two school districts, with an attendance of about 100 scholars at each school. The Masons, Odd Fellows, I. O. G. T. and Grangers each have a hall, with large memberships. There are five general stores, doing an aggregate business of about $100,000 per annum. The Eagle Woolen Mills, located here, used about 70,000 pounds of wool, manufacturing $50,000 worth of goods—the mill not working up to its full capacity. A large sash and door factory, run by water power, annually uses from 250,000 to 300,000 feet of lumber per year in its various manufactures. A No. 1 grist mill, with three run of burrs, turns out the best of flour. There is also an extensive tannery, which manufactures the best kind of leather.

The character of the land in the vicinity is excellent, consisting of rich prairie and bottom lands some of which has been in continuous cultivation for 20 and 25 years, and still produce good crops of grain when put in. Prices range from $7 to $50 per acre, depending on whether it is hill, bottom or timberland, and the amount of improvement.

During 1874 there was sowed from 1,500 to 2,000 acres in flax in this vicinity for the oil, the yield averaging 15 bushels per acre, although 22 bushels was obtained in some localities. For wheat, oats and barley the soil is unsurpassed. Farmers in the vicinity will put in some 3,000 acres of flax the coming season, with an increased area of other grain.

The barkentine S. M. Stetson, of 707 tons measurement, was sold in San Francisco Jan. 18th, by the U. S. marshal, for $30,500. Richard M. Chandler was the purchaser. The Stetson was built at Port Madison last year, and had made one trip only, running down in six days. The sale took place under an order of the court, to satisfy a libel against the ship by H. C. Wright, for material.

Average California wheat ex-warehouse, [illegible] quoted by latest telegrams from Liverpool at [illegible] quarter; Oregon, ditto [illegible] Oregon cargoes for prompt shipment are quotable in Liverpool at [illegible] per quarter; ditto, at Cork [illegible]. The European markets are all reported dull, and cargoes for shipment [illegible] slow sale.

Commercial circles in the Eastern cities were very much disturbed last week, and the general course of values was irregular and unsettled. The [illegible] was the sharp advance in gold and the irregularity of the money market in every respect. In comparison with the preceding week business prospects looked less promising, but it was thought though that this would be no more than temporary, and that it would at least give way before the present month closes, and trade would assume its usual level.

In local business matters the week opened to-day with no exciting transactions. Money is plentiful for the current demand, but such have been the circumstances of the past winter that the capital of the country is now notably distributed so that while funds are readily obtainable as loans at very reasonable rates, there is a growing complaint of the scarcity of money in general circulation. State and local improvements and trade matters have languished, and money has lain idle for want of opportunities for profitable investment. Disbursements for moving the surplus crops were free during the fall and early winter, but in other directions there was a general dullness. This year, so far, has been one of very great backwardness in all departments of trade, and though the spring may bring a time of fair business activity, it is hardly probable that the business of the year, on an average, will be as good as last for our State.

Tonnage and Wheat Prospects.

There are now at this port vessels with an aggregate carrying capacity of near ten thousand tons, while those loading here and at Astoria will carry at least ten thousand tons more. It is not believed that we had in the State on the 1st of this month more than 40,000 tons, wheat and flour over the amount required for consumption. There is a very large portion of this that cannot be reached by water, and which will not be sent forward by rail while present rates prevail. Again, there is a very considerable quantity which holders are able to keep over, and will not sell until an advance takes place. The cargoes of the vessels now loading are all secured, and will be on shipboard by the end of the present week. A very fair judge in such matters estimates that when the Parsee, L. C. Troop, Conflict, Euterpe, Windward, Muriel and Willy Rickmers, now loading, have completed, there will not be more than 18,000 or 20,000 tons at most available for shipment this season. That the tonnage supply will be ample there is now but little doubt. That which has not already been engaged will also be very likely to be obtained at very low rates, if we may judge by the present condition of the market in San Francisco, where charters have been effected during this month ranging from £2 12s down to £2 3s per ton. The latest wheat charters then for England are at the rate of £2 8s to £2 12s 6d for iron vessels, and large wooden carriers find it difficult to get £2 5s. There being no apprehensions of a lack of cheap tonnage the question of prices for grain is one of equal importance. We would be glad were the prospects of Oregon in this regard more cheering. On this subject we give the following extract from a commercial letter dated New York, February 6th, and telegraphed to the San Francisco [illegible]:

Foreign advices have not been very favorable, and the general movement in cereal products has been light and rather unsatisfactory. Flour was dull and weak, the margins being still against English shippers. The exports to Great Britain continue very light. Cable advices report a depressed market in England for wheat, and the market here is weak and lower, with margins still against shippers. The amount of wheat now afloat from the Atlantic coast will not exceed 500,000 bushels; but from California and southern continental ports the shipments to the United Kingdom have been in excess of expectations. France and Germany are not inclined to spare any breadstuffs, and it is now apparent that stocks are overestimated. However, there is considerable doubt as to whether we will be able to export our surplus or not. Any improvement in prices can hardly be expected for farmers, and Western dealers may as well come to this conclusion now as to wait until the spring months are past. In many parts of the West farmers have large supplies on hand, which they have been holding ever since harvest in anticipation of realizing higher prices.

If the foregoing be a correct view of the situation then it would seem indeed that the prospect for better prices is far from flattering.

Produce Market.

There is no change in the condition of the grain and flour market, the price for wheat being still dependent on the source whence quotations are obtained. Some transactions are occurring at $1 37½@$1 40, though ordinary lots might find difficulty in bringing the latter figure. The last sales of which the terms were furnished were made at $1 37½, while we hear of about 1,000 tons being sold on terms reserved. Flour unchanged; oats firm at 50 cents per cental for choice lots sacked. Potatoes, hay and ground feed are in fair request at our last figures. Butter, poultry and eggs are also in good demand for the local trade. Eggs, for this trade, are selling at 40 cents a dozen to-day, but shippers will not touch them at that figure. Other produce quotations are not altered.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship Ajax, from San Francisco, with 700 tons assorted cargo, arrived at an early hour this morning. She is discharging at the O. S. S. Co.'s wharf.

The bark Windward hauled up to Pacific wharf this morning, where her cargo is being rapidly placed on board.

The Guade Telfair will sail for ports to the north about the last of the week.

The bark Mattie Macleay has most of her cargo out and will at once go on the berth for Honolulu.

The cargo of the L. C. Troop has all been forwarded to Astoria, by McCraken & Co., who are loading her and she will finish this week.

The Willy Rickmers and Windward, the former being loaded by Allen & Lewis, and the latter by Henry Hewitt & Co., will get off in a day or two.

San Francisco Markets.

BY TELEGRAPH [illegible]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—Flour—Extra, $5 25.

Wheat—Choice shipping, $1 50; [illegible] $1 55, choice milling $1 55@1 57½.

Barley—$1 40@1 50 for feed; $1 60@1 65 for brewing.

Oats—$1 65@1 85.

Hay—$10@17.

Potatoes—Choice Salinas, $1 85.

Onions—Choice Union City yellow, $1 60@1 65.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—In this staple product there is at present the least amount of speculation known in this market for some time. Up to and during the time of the freeze exporters were buying quite largely, and stocks in the mean time accumulated, so that there was scarcely storage room. These stocks are being rapidly depleted by the vessels here and at Astoria loading for Europe and San Francisco. When these vessels are loaded there will not be much of a surplus in this market, though shippers still have some very considerable lots awaiting transportation from the interior. There are now comparatively but few purchases being made, though all good wheat offering at $1 37½ a cental is taken by two or three exporters, while others refuse to quote higher than $1 35.

FLOUR—The receipts from several of our state mills are large, and heavy invoices are going forward to the vessels at Astoria, to Puget Sound ports and to San Francisco. Prices have varied but little for weeks, the quotations for jobbing rates being still at $4 50 [illegible] barrel for standard extras, $5@5 25 for good outside brands, and $3 50@3 75 for superfine.

OATS—There is an apparent tendency toward a decline, owing to the report of full supplies in the San Francisco market and slightly increased receipts here. We quote good bright to choice lots, in sacks, at $1 80@[illegible] bushel.

BARLEY—There are but few transactions to note or to fix prices. Quotations nominal, common feed to choice brewing and are furnished at $1 50@1 75, the latter only for the best.

FEED—Trade is not reported better, and figures are still furnished at $25@27 50 per ton for middlings, bran $[illegible], chop $25@27 50, shorts $20, oil cake $[illegible].

HAY—No change in prices since last week; the supply is full for the current demand; good timothy quotable at $12@12 50 per ton.

POTATOES—The receipts are larger than last week and prices are slightly down; jobbing rate for good qualities [illegible] without sacks.

ONIONS—No transactions, nominally quotable at $[illegible] 100 lbs.

LARD—We quote a good article in kegs at 12½@[illegible], in tins, 12½@[illegible].

BUTTER—A choice article in demand for the local trade and commands 35@40c [illegible], but it must be the best. Common lots can bring 20@25c, solid 27½ [illegible] inferior 22@25c.

EGGS—The receipts are insufficient to supply the home trade, and some lots have been sold to-day at 40 cts. per dozen, but shippers are not buying, the local consumption taking that offer.

APPLES, RIPE—There are now but few choice varieties in the market, which are quotable at 75c@[illegible] box.

APPLES, DRIED—The demand is dull at [illegible] ⅌ lb in sacks, and 5@6c in kegs.

BACON—In common with some other products this commodity is manifesting a slightly downward tendency, sides being now quotable at [illegible]; hams [illegible]. The supply is very full.

CHICKENS—For a few days past there has been a good demand for fat to choice lots, and sales [illegible] dozen. The receipts [illegible] the average for the week.

DRESSED HOGS—The demand is still fair at [illegible] since our last reports.

BEEF CATTLE—There is a stronger feeling on the part of holders [illegible] Eastern Oregon and Washington Territory [illegible] ⅌ lb.

MUTTON SHEEP—There are very few lots offering, and choice are worth $[illegible] per head, and [illegible] the extreme of $[illegible].

HIDES AND FURS—[illegible]

WOOL—In this staple there are comparatively no transactions to note. Prices are unchanged, [illegible] for good to choice.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.
The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one, but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the Cherry Pectoral has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR
TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY & COLOR.
Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.
Ayer's Hair Vigor, by long and extensive use has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair, becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.
As a dressing for ladies' hair, the Vigor is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

MEDICAL.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE!
NEW REMEDIES! NEW [illegible]
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,
623 KEARNEY ST., COR. COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established 1854, for the treatment of [illegible] and Seminal Diseases, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, [illegible] Diseases of years standing, Ulcerated Legs cured.
DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing he has returned from visiting the principal hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearney street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and others requiring his services may find him.
The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.
Horrible Disease.
How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at the pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians and friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies, that they may be cared for and cured before it be too late. Apply immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study many years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases, without mercury or any injurious [illegible]. It is important to those who are afflicted, and to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors [illegible] all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public, using the names of eminent physicians [illegible] other places. Be therefore careful and make inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of charlatans.
Seminal Weakness.
Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual habit, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will forfeit Five Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of the complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.
Married Men,
Or those who contemplate marriage, who are laboring under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.
DR. GIBBON is responsible and will give each patient a written instrument, binding him to effect a radical and permanent cure, or no charge.
Cured at Home.
Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union. All communications strictly confidential.
Caution to the Unfortunate.
Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, deceive the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places were tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, cooks, carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry: it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting his diplomas, titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he professes to cure.

Railroad War—Great Reduction of Rates on the Baltimore & Ohio R. R.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 16.—Thos. Scott, president of the Pennsylvania Railway Company, has written a letter to President Garrett, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railway, in which, after accusing Garrett of demagoguism and bad faith in his action in regard to rates, he says: "So far as this company is concerned, you may rely upon it that we will prosecute the business of Philadelphia and place Baltimore, New York and other points accessible by our lines on an equitable and fair business basis in all matters relating to transportation over our own road. While we desire to moderate rates for services performed, believing that it is best for the public and for owners of railway property that this should be the case, we shall always be ready to take care of our own share of business of the country, with rates and facilities equal to those of any other company or line, from Washington and Baltimore and from New York, over our own road. They shall be made quite as perfect for the convenience of the public from this date as they have been at any time in the past. There shall be no inconvenience whatever to the public by reason of your effort to destroy railroad property of any other parties. The Northern and Central Railway Co. will, during the present year, perfect its terminal facilities at Baltimore so as to place it there [illegible] equality with others on the seaboard, and it will be the duty and interest of the company, whose line terminates there, to give to Baltimore a line in every respect equal, both as to rates and facilities, to any that the Baltimore and Ohio will be able to offer."

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 16.—The letter of Thos. Scott to President Garrett, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railway, was in reply to a dispatch received from the latter, in which Garrett says he had been informed that the Pennsylvania company intended to deprive the Baltimore and Ohio [illegible] of the convenient use of the Pennsylvania line by [illegible] through passenger tickets from their offices in New York and New England, and prohibiting [illegible] cars of the Baltimore and Ohio passing over the Pennsylvania company's track to Philadelphia. Garrett says if this is true, the Baltimore and Ohio company will adopt such measures to [illegible] passenger rates and otherwise, as will [illegible] ability to maintain itself and secure [illegible] equitable relations for its business [illegible] points.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 16.—There seems no present prospect of reconciliation between the Baltimore & Ohio and Pennsylvania Central R. R. companies. President Garrett says Scott's letter of to-day is a tissue of gross misrepresentations. The Baltimore and Ohio company have issued orders for an immense reduction of passenger rates between Washington and Baltimore and Philadelphia and leading Western cities. The fare from Chicago and Cincinnati to Baltimore and Washington is reduced to $10, from St. Louis to these cities, $12, from Louisville $12, etc. Similar reductions have been made between Western cities and Philadelphia. It is understood that the Baltimore and Ohio Railway Co. are arranging for a line of first class freight steamships to run between New York and Baltimore. All its western connections have [illegible] the Baltimore and Ohio Railway Co. [illegible] cheerfully co-operate in its policy as long as the Pennsylvania Railway Co. continue to [illegible] lines to Philadelphia and New York.

The Southern Pacific Railroad.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—In the Senate, the credentials of A. S. Paddock, U. S. Senator from Nebraska, were read and placed on file.

Ferry, of Michigan, from the committee on finance, reported, with an amendment in the nature of a substitute, House bill restricting the [illegible] of custom house duties, and prescribing certain regulations for the treasury department. Placed on the calendar.

At the expiration of the morning hour, the Senate resumed consideration of the resolution for the admission of Pinchback, and Sargent continued his argument.

The judiciary committee having been directed to report what is the meaning and extent of the so-called press gag law of June, 1874, submitted a report expressing the opinion that said act is no [illegible] in any criticism, and that in respect to the crime of libel it confers no powers either to bring persons charged with libel into the District of Columbia, or to send them out of it. The report is signed by Edmunds, Conkling, Frelinghuysen, Wright, Thurman and Stevens.

The report of the Senate committee on judiciary on the so-called press gag law is signed by all the members of the committee, and takes ground that a person charged with libel can be brought into the District of Columbia under the law in question; [illegible] no person can be brought thence under it for any crime whatever, and it is equally plain that no person charged with the crime of libel in any other district or place in the United States can be arrested [illegible] and sent to such district or place under it, for, libel is not a crime against the laws of the United States in any of the states, so that no case could arise in which a court or judge in the District of Columbia could be called upon to arrest a person there and send him to any State for trial for libel. The committee are of opinion that both sections of the act are necessary, proper and in perfect accordance with the principles of justice and the course of civilized jurisprudence.

The Senate foreign committee have substantially agreed to the Hawaiian reciprocity treaty, though no formal vote has been taken, and action was deferred on some details. Orders there should be time to act on the treaty before adjournment there will be an extra session called for the 4th of March, but it will last for a few days only.
